

LANDON READY TO MAKE INVASION OF 4 PIVOTAL STATES

Republican Candidate to Leave
Tonight on Tour of Illinois,
Ohio, Mich., and Ind.

EFFECT TO BE DECISIVE

Advisors Say He Can Win The Presidency by Carrying
These States

By International News Service

TOPEKA, Kansas, Oct. 8.—In fighting mood for a whirlwind invasion of pivotal states, Governor Alfred M. Landon was prepared to leave here tonight on a seven-day campaign tour of Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana.

The Republican nominee was aware the tour may have a decisive effect on the outcome of the November election. His advisors have told him he can win the Presidency if he can carry these four states.

Dog Show Will Be Held
Here On 18th of October

On Sunday, October 18th, the newly organized Bristol Kennel Club will hold its first annual dog show on the Laing Estate, Newportville Road. The show, sanctioned by the American Kennel Club, is to be an "all breed" one, open to all dogs three months and over. There will be a special "pet class" in which judging will be based solely on a child's ability to handle the pet. Awards or trophies will be given in each regular class.

The show opens at 10 a. m., and judging will be continuous throughout the day.

This is said to be the first A. K. C. sanctioned show ever to be held in lower Bucks County.

CACERES, Oct. 8.—(INS)—We finally got away from Burgos with passes for Caceres and Seville. I had no desire to go to Seville, but wanted to come here to see General Franco and get fresh passes for the Foreign Legion drive on Madrid along the Talavera-Toledo road, where the war is going to be decided.

That is, I believe that if the Whites take Madrid it will be from this front. It seems to be that General Mola in the north will hold fast of his crests at the Guadarrama and at the Somosierra, pushing as far as he can but making no serious attempt to take the city from that side, while Franco's troops drive on along this road which offers no great natural obstacles.

We had a wearisome drive from Burgos, getting away about noon and arriving here at seven in the evening. Without stopping to wash up, but all dusty and disheveled we drove straight to Franco's headquarters. It is in a magnificent old aristocratic house with four courtyards, situated on

Presidency, Congress, Courts to Go, Book Tells Colonists

No. 4

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—When the co-operative movement becomes powerful enough to take over the government, the first step will be to abolish the Presidency, Congress and the courts.

At least, that is what Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell's Resettlement administration beneficiaries learn if they read James Peter Warbasse's book, "Co-operative Democracy", as they are being steeped in co-operative lore and surrounded with co-operative enterprises designed to supplant private business. The book is listed on page 17 of Dr. Tugwell's "Lesson One—What Is Consumer's Co-operation?"

Instead of a political Congress there will be one with membership restricted to co-operators and the officials of the co-operative associations.

An Executive Department

The associations, in turn, will be made up of local co-operative communities and the vast wholesale, manufacturing, mining and farming organizations which are supposed to supply the communities with commodities.

Instead of a president, there will be an "Executive Department" also composed of the officials of co-operative associations. Cabinet positions will be filled by subordinate boards.

Instead of the Supreme Court, there will be a supreme "Board of Arbitration" similarly manned.

For once, though, boards are going to function without red tape and politics because, as Mr. Warbasse says, the United States will be living under a "dictatorship of humanity."

Everyone Will Be Well-to-Do

Both the "parasitic profiteer" and the "exploited proletariat" will have been transformed into co-operators, and everyone will be well-to-do because profits will have been eliminated. Mr. Warbasse is in a position to state this as a fact, for besides being Dr. Tugwell's adviser, as head of the Co-operative League of the United States he is the chief professional co-operator of the nation.

There will be no laws as they are regarded now. Instead, as every resettlement beneficiary who studies his book knows, there will be just a few "rules and regulations." Neither will there be a myriad of taxes. Instead, all of the land in the country will be owned by the "co-operative democracy" and rented to whoever needs it, and the only tax will be the rent. This fee will be levied in direct proportion to the use value of the property without improvements.

A Two-Hour Working Day

There will be no marketing co-operatives, such as the Grange and similar organizations which Dr. Tugwell is establishing, to dispose of the wares of his co-operative workers. With displacement of capitalism they will not be required, for everyone is to be a consumer instead of a producer.

A central control board will decide how much industrial and agricultural output can be consumed in a year, and production will be limited to that, with a little over to guard against famine. A two-hour working day is expected to suffice, and even this is supposed to be lowered as the national "taste for harmful, unnecessary and un-beautiful things, stimulated by advertising," gradually wanes and only simply gadgets which meet beauty and utility tests are manufactured.

AN AVERAGE FAMILY IN PAWTUCKET, R. I., SPENT $.1439 OUT OF EVERY DOLLAR THEY EXPENDED FOR TAXES OF VARIOUS KINDS

Statistics gathered over a period of one year by the Providence, R. I., "Journal," show the extent to which hidden taxes are being collected every day from Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen.

In the "Journal's" survey three average families were employed to keep an accurate record of their expenses.

These families submitted their budgets each month during the course of the year, and it became evident they were living in such an extremely thrifty manner, and abstaining to such an extent from the use of heavily taxed articles, that their indirect tax bill would be much lower than that of the average family. None of these families pay income tax. One pays no property tax except indirectly in rent. One family has no automobile, and the others drive for pleasure on a much below average basis. High priced government taxed movies were avoided. Clothes were made at home. No money was thrown away on luxuries. The liquor bill of the three families for the year totalled $5.69. Even the tobacco bill was very small.

Family No. 1—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green, 94 Chandler avenue, Pawtucket, R. I. The annual income of the family was $2,764.95. Both Mr. Green, who is 40, and Mrs. Green, are natives of England. She came to this country in 1910, and he has been in the United States since 1919. They have a 13-year-old daughter, Leatrice, now a student at Samuel Slater Junior High School.

The Greens do not make enough to have to pay income tax, but the research staff of the newspaper, which kept a detailed record of the budget during the year to learn precisely the extent of hidden and direct taxes they had to pay, computed that out of every dollar spent by the Greens, 14.39 cents went for taxes.

"I never realized we were paying out so much in taxes," said Mrs. Green. "I could have done plenty with the money we had to pay out in taxes."

"We want to send our daughter to a Boston music school. With that tax money we could have saved enough to get her started at least, and maybe see her through without much trouble."

"It must be harder for lots of people who buy their own clothes. I make almost all our clothes, using the goods I get from the mill. That saves a lot."

The Greens maintain their household on a small budget. They have an automobile, but no telephone. They rarely go to the movies.

They spent $502.86 on food, of which $37.07, or 7.37 per cent was consumed by taxes. Mr. and Mrs. Green both worked more than four days to pay for the indirect taxes on their food.

It took almost 22 days' income to meet the year's clothing bill of $193.92. This cost them $11.71 in taxes or 6.04 per cent, of the clothing outlay.

And this invisible tax on clothing required one and one-third working days by Mr. and Mrs. Green. It was an amount sufficient to buy a winter coat for their daughter, nine shirts for Mr. Green or 19 pairs of stock-

STAPP AND ERB TO SPEAK AT "DADS" MEETING HERE

Princeton Swimming Coach and Abington Football
Official To Be Guests

INVITE ALL TO ATTEND

This evening members of the Bristol Father's Association will listen to Howard Stepp and George Erb, who will address the regular monthly meeting of the association in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock.

Mr. Stepp, the present swimming coach at Princeton University, will talk about his experiences as an instructor in aquatic sports.

Mr. Erb, who has officiated at football games in both high school and college circles, will tell the members many exciting stories about the game.

The drive for new members for the Association is producing splendid results. The financial secretary, Mr. Brown, reports that the subscriptions and dues are being received daily. The dues this year are one dollar for the entire year, ending September, 1937.

The Association will also have as its guests tonight: Coach Daugherty and the High School football squad.

Paul Forster, president of the Association, requests that the members turn out in full force to greet these boys, who are doing such courageous work on the gridiron. He further says: "We must show these boys that we are behind them in everything they do; we must give them moral courage for their game with Langhorne on Friday."

COMMUNICATION

Editor Courier: What per cent of the fathers of children in Bristol are interested in their schools?

How could such an interest be shown? Could not the membership list of our Father's Association be an indicating criteria? If so, let us see what information we can secure from an analysis of this list. We find about one hundred active members in this organization, which number is about three per cent of the eligible adult male population of Bristol. Is this condition unfortunate?

In the Massachusetts law of 1647, which was the beginning of education in the United States, the policies of education were left to local initiative. In 1834 our state legislature enacted a law which placed school responsibility and growth directly upon each local community. Through the citizens of each town, borough, or township, our schools have grown and developed to what they are today. Have we reached perfection in our schools? Can we afford to grow lax and lose interest in something we have achieved through our own efforts?

If you think not, prove your active interest by attending our Father's Association meeting this evening in the Bristol High School.

OPINIONS DIFFER ON 3-DAY MARRIAGE LAW

Unpremeditated Marriages
Prevented To Degree,
Is Belief

SOME TO OTHER PARTS

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 7.—"Gin-weddings," hasty elopements and unpremeditated marriages are on the decline in Bucks county because of the three-day marriage law that went into operation nearly a year ago, in the opinion of Miss Eleanor D. Worthington, of Hartsville, Clerk of Orphans' Court of Bucks County.

Others affiliated with the Orphans' Court office where marriage licenses are granted, are of the same opinion, but there are still others who believe the three-day law has done nothing more than the applicants go to other sections to secure licenses.

Most of the applications for marriage licenses are now made to Justices of the Peace, so that applicants do not have to make the trip to Doylestown personally. The Justice in turn makes the application for the prospective brides and grooms, and three days later delivers the license. The three-day law has resulted in an increase in the number of weddings performed by civil officers.

"WE CAN ESTABLISH A REAL PEACE BY LOVE AND WELL DOING," GARDNER TELLS LARGE AUDIENCE AT NEWTOWN

Republican Candidate for Congress Addresses Large Audience in Newtown Hall and Then Conducts Open Forum With Audience — Senator Buckman Says Roosevelt Has the Support of Communists.

(By STAFF CORRESPONDENT)

NEWTOWN, Oct. 8.—More than 300 persons gathered in Newtown Hall here last evening to hear Theodore R. Gardner, Republican candidate for Congress from the Bucks-Lehigh district, and State Senator Clarence J. Buckman, denounce the methods of the present Administration in its efforts to attain a real peace.

"We can establish a real peace by love and well doing," Gardner said, "but it must begin at home. And when we have such a set of reciprocal trade agreements with foreign countries as now exist, it is impossible to attain a peace that will mean anything," Gardner said.

"War is not brought about solely by the big munitions manufacturers but a mental state in every citizen in the land. And a mental state of well-being does not exist today and cannot exist today because these foreign trade agreements are all to the advantage of the foreign countries and all to the detriment of the United States.

"Economic security is an essential part of any real peace and when we buy thousands of articles from foreign countries that can be made there cheaper than at home, the inevitable result is an increase in unemployment in this country and that is just what is happening.

"Not only textiles, iron, cement, and many other articles are bought in foreign markets, but also many agricultural products. And each month these goods bought from foreign countries increase. In the first six months of 1935 we imported 18,815,000 pounds of pork and ham from foreign countries. In the first six months of 1936 this amount almost tripled with 45,306,000 pounds being imported."

Gardner also illustrated the damaging effect of importing cement into this country. He pointed out the cost of producing this foreign cement is about 1/7 of the cost in the United States, with the same result—unemployment in the United States and the resultant unrest that has continued to follow—all adding to the general feeling of unrest among the laboring classes and making it impossible to even begin to establish any real semblance of peace.

"And we still have a continued program of crop reduction," Gardner stated, "and we still have a continued increase in the volume of imported farm products. A few years ago we imported practically no corn. In 1935 we imported 20,000,000 bushels from the Argentine. The same was true of the wheat crop, but in 1935 we imported 38,000,000 bushels of wheat from foreign countries.

"One of the most outstanding agricultural organizations in the country, the National Grange, has realized the significance of having these trade agreements changed. This organization has asked for the immediate repeal of the agreements."

Explaining that our unemployment problem would be greatly aided if the agreements were broken, Gardner claimed that "a vast majority of our 12,000,000 unemployed would be put to work if we did not have this cheap foreign competition."

"On the other hand I do not favor an exceptionally high prohibitive tariff, but merely one that will protect American industry and put our citizens back to work, thus making for the only real peace and security that can be had."

"In regard to the armaments question I believe that the United States should continue to arm as long as other countries do so, but I do not think that we need to do this in an excessive manner."

Following his address this staunch Republican standard bearer and true advocate of a sincere peace held an open forum meeting for the assembly.

To every question put, Mr. Gardner clearly defined his stand on the question of peace and its maintenance. He believes that no higher institution of learning should have a compulsory military training course. He is in favor of the strongest type of neutrality policy. And he also favors a national referendum on the question of the draft. Because of the miserable failure of the government when it attempted to operate some private organizations and industries during the World War, Mr. Gardner is also opposed to this activity on the part of the government.

In concluding his address, Mr. Gardner said, "The only true peace begins at home and this will result when the present detrimental reciprocal trade agreements have been abolished. It is alright to be a good neighbor to all our foreign friends, but not at the expense and suffering of our own United States citizens."

Preceding Gardner's address, State Senator Clarence J. Buckman was introduced to the group by A. Harry Clayton, chairman of the Bucks County Republican Committee.

Senator Buckman warned the voters against the wave of religious intolerance which is likely to arise if we continue with the present administration.

"The message of Soviet Russia is creeping into this country. It is in our schools and colleges. Communism is creeping in. It has come in Europe. It must be stopped here."

"What is communism?" Senator Buckman asked the audience. "Well, I do not pretend to know all about it, but I do know that communism believes in no government or religion. This insidious propaganda of communism that is creeping into this country must be stopped."

"And Roosevelt, in spite of the fact that he has denied any appeal for communist support, has the full support of the communists in this country."

"And along with this undecent of a new form of government the present Administration has attempted to regiment this country and set aside our Constitution. But all the acts passed by the Administration to further gain control over the farmers, manufacturers, and miners, have been declared unconstitutional.

"I believe in the sanctity of the Supreme Court. It must be preserved and protected. This soviet, socialistic, communistic bunch of bureaucrats now in power are returned to power in November, you can expect civil war in the United States," concluded Senator Buckman.

IN DARKEST D. C.

A. W. Gilliam of Washington, D. C., is an affectionate husband. He kisses his wife when he feels so inclined which is not infrequently. The other night he felt so inclined while the Gilliams were in their car parked in front of their home.

At the moment of exchange of the conjugal caress, two policemen stuck their heads into the Gilliam car and wanted to know what was going on. Mr. Gilliam replied that he was kissing his wife and enquired what, if anything, it was to the cops. One of the latter said Mr. Gilliam looked like a suspicious character. Mrs. Gilliam wept. Mr. Gilliam told the cops just what he thought they were and what their ancestors were before them. Then the patrol wagon came.

And now Mr. Gilliam wants a judicial determination of two questions: First, is it lawful for a man to kiss his own wife in the District of Columbia? Second, is it lawful for Washington policemen to poke their noses not only into peaceful citizens' cars but also into peaceful citizens' family circles?

Unless Mr. Gilliam gets satisfactory answers to both questions, we think he would be justified in expatriating himself from the District of Columbia until such time as its residents are emancipated.

WAIT AND SEE

Several of Uncle Sam's bright weather forecasters have read the signs and omens and agree that this winter will be a hell-bender. Not officially, of course, as that would be unethical. Uncle Sam limits the official predictions of his weather experts to 24 hours, which is probably just as well when it is remembered how these prognostications have a habit of missing it on occasion.

But, unofficially, the consensus of opinion of the old-timers as well as the specialists is that the cold spell ahead will be colder than last winter's. If the thing happens to turn out that way few squawks will be heard from the miners and coal dealers, from the clothing trade or from the purveyors of cold pills.

That five-year-old overcoat may hang together for another winter if it is sufficiently mild, but if it develops into one of the kind the old folks talk about a new one will be essential. And the coal bin will require frequent refilling if it's a rap-snorter.

Well, there's probably nothing that can be done about it by folks who live in the northern part of the country except to wait and see and keep the snow shovel handy. With all the improvements that have been made upon the old methods, nothing has yet been advanced to curb the rugged individualism of the weather.

Then there was the foreign editor who passed to light a cigar and found he was three crises behind in Europe.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those suffering from painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, limboags, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD—Whatever else happens in her stormy course towards fame, Simone Simon, piquant new-comer from France, intends to make a permanent home in Hollywood. She is sending for her mother and is looking for a big house in Beverly Hills.

The Wesley Ruggles home, which Arline Judge thought was too big for her and the baby, was one she inspected.

Simone's mother is Mrs. Monique Simon, a non-professional. Her father has been dead for a number of years.

If you can believe reports from England, Basil Rathbone's college boy son went away from Hollywood with a definite crush on Olivia de Havilland. The boy, who bears the unusual first name of Rodion, recently arrived from England via the canal only to find that his father was en route to London to do a picture. After seven days of being entertained in the film colony, he started back to Cambridge university, where he is a student.

When May Robson reported for work in "Rainbow on the River," her fellow players unknowingly witnessed a milestone in the career of this fine actress. For, on Sept. 26, 1883, Miss Robson stepped upon the stage for the first time. It was in the Grand opera house in Brooklyn, and the play was "Hoop of Gold."

She has not been idle a single one of the 53 seasons since that time.

Sandra Jean and Ronnie, the adopted youngsters of George Burns and Gracie Allen, are the latest victims of the flu bug, which is busy in Hollywood again.

Clauette Colbert and Director Frank Lloyd both came down with it, causing the "Maid of Salem" company to suspend production temporarily.

Today's Puzzle: What character actor is due to be hailed up before the academy when he returns from a European trip? Seems as he left in the middle of a picture.

Here and there in Hollywood... Nina Penn Williams, widow of Bob Williams, writes to say that her dress shop, Albertine, will open around Oct. 15. . . . Maureen O'Sullivan is wearing a new sapphire ring with matching bracelet, the gifts of her bridegroom, John Farrow. . . . Hollywood is mourning the death of Howard de Courcy, west coast manager of International News Photos, who was one of the film colony's best known newspapermen. . . . It is Henry Willson who is taking Cecilia Parker places now. . . . Barbara Pepper calls us to say that Jack Dowling was her escort at Sebastian's the other night. Owen Davis, Jr., only went along with them. . . . Both Gene Fowler and Jack Dempsey say that Jim Tulley's new novel, "The Bruiser," is the best ever written about a prize fighter. . . . Gene Austin's pals and admirers will be glad to hear that he begins an engagement at Sard's cocktail room. . . . And Frank Lloyd must be a land of plenty for Madge Evans' maid, Willa, is retiring at the age of 40.

G. O. P. FOUND GROUNDS FOR JOY IN SEPTEMBER

Politics Held Center of Stage in News for the Month Just Ended

STRAW VOTE TREND

By International News Service

With politics holding the center of the stage in September, Republicans found plenty of ground for jubilation. Maine, long regarded as the "barometer" in national elections, voted solidly for the G. O. P. slate. Breaking all precedent, Gov. Alfred M. Landon traveled to Maine to make a personal plea for victory.

The New Deal came in for an unpleasant set-back in Michigan. U. S. Senator James J. Couzens, a convert to Roosevelt policies, was defeated by more than 100,000 votes in the Republican primary by former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, who sharply criticized the Democratic administration throughout his campaign.

All of the pre-election straw votes revealed Gov. Landon leading President Roosevelt by substantial majorities, with even the Democratic strongholds showing a smaller percentage of the total vote than in the 1932 race.

The Spanish Revolt was the only other story to get dominant play during the month, with the rebels showing steady day by day gains in their fight to overthrow the leftist government.

The Nazi party congress also was of great importance, with Chancellor Hitler attacking Soviet Russia and demanding the return of Germany's colonies seized during the World War.

With new trans-Atlantic flights, aviation returned to a prominent position during the month.

The split in the ranks of organized labor became more pronounced when the deadline passed for the ten ousted C. I. O. unions to return to the ranks of the A. F. of L.

In politics the most significant meeting of the campaign occurred at Des Moines, when President Roosevelt met Gov. Landon and other state executives to discuss the drought problem. Both nominees praised each other highly afterwards.

Later Gov. Landon advanced the principle of cash crop insurance to give farmers the same protection tariffs give industry. The Administration forces also considered similar measures.

Roosevelt insisted his tour of the drought states was "non-political."

Tammany again took full control of the New York situation, routing insurgent candidacies in the primaries.

Outside of the political arena Washington showed little activity. President Roosevelt gave the nation a shock when he estimated the fiscal year deficit at $2,996,996,000, an increase of almost a billion dollars over his previous prediction. He pointed out, however, that the deficit would be the smallest of any year since his Administration came into power.

Washington worried for a few days when the U. S. Destroyer Kane was bombed—but not hit—forty miles off the Spanish coast. Both the loyalists and the rebels denied responsibility. But—the United States withdrew its naval vessels from the war-zone, fearful of a more serious incident.

However, the general international situation over Spain improved, but there were a succession of trying days for the country's Leftist Government. Iron, San Sebastian and other loyalist strongholds were captured by the rebels, who kept driving closer and closer to Madrid. Many observers were predicting an ultimate rebel victory.

The Atlantic gave signs of becoming a commuting pond. Harry Richman, night club singer, and Dick Merrill, crack transport pilot, flew from New York to London and back, but not without their troubles. They were forced down in Wales for lack of gas, and, coming home, the same difficulty drove them into a Newfoundland bog. Neither was injured.

Mrs. Beryl Markham, pretty British society woman, made the first woman's solo flight westward, spanning the ocean but being forced down in Nova Scotia. The same old trouble—lack of fuel. She escaped with minor injuries.

The Germans sent two flying boats cruising back and forth between the Azores and the United States in commercial route tests.

Two other trans-Atlantic flights were in the making.

Many North Atlantic coast residents almost needed wings to get to safety

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

WITH meats and butter more favorably in balance with her pocket-book, the housewife can plan and buy her meals more easily. This week fowl and chickens have come down considerably. Prices are rising only on large size Grade A eggs. Medium and small eggs are fairly plentiful and moderate in price.

Local grown produce is plentiful and moderate in price. Lettuce is still high but cabbage, escarole, romaine, spinach, celery, tomatoes and cucumbers are very reasonable.

Grapefruit is becoming plentiful, apples are an excellent value and grapes, pears and fresh prunes are generally available. Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

Low Cost Dinner
Braised Chuck of Beef Potatoes
Onions Cole Slaw
Bread and Butter
Jellied Fruits
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Lamb Browned Potatoes
Carrots and Peas
Bread and Butter
Banana Shortcake
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Fruit Cup
Baked Ham Glazed Apple Rings
Scalloped Potatoes Spinach
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Hot Gingerbread Lemon Sauce
Coffee

when the worst storm in years struck northward from Cape Hatteras. Ten lives were lost and many persons injured, but epics of heroism were written as the Coast Guard saved scores at sea. The property damage ran into the millions.

Father Coughlin stayed in the news. He was taken to task by Osservatore Romano, official Vatican organ, for having called President Roosevelt a "liar."

With Yale leading the way, commercial broadcasts of football games were arranged by a score of leading universities. But the college boys were being careful on what was to be touted over the air as the crowds yelled for touchdowns.

Governor Lehman upheld District Attorney Geoghan of Brooklyn, against whom charges were preferred by the extraordinary grand jury which investigated the Drukman murder case. Lehman called Geoghan "an honest man."

Less violent crime was reported throughout the nation than in months. Gov. Frank Fitzgerald of Michigan acted to clean out any office holders who might be members of the Black Legion. Mrs. Dorothy Sherwood, who killed her baby at Newburgh, N. Y., because she could not feed him, got off with a 6 to 15 year sentence after once being in the death house. She won a second trial.

New York's milk strike was averted for at least another thirty days. New York City had an incipient garage workers strike, but that is to be arbitrated. The lettuce workers struck in California. The Mormon church announced that after October 1 no Mormon would be on the dole in the United States. The excursion boat Romance was sunk in a collision with another coastal vessel off Boston, but 212 passengers were rescued. The New York Yankees won the American League pennant by a wide margin, and prepared to play the Giants, National League champs, for the world's title.

Around the world things were happening too. Soviet Russia, accusing Trotsky as instigator, executed sixteen men charged with plotting against the life of Dictator Josef Stalin. France had a new outbreak of "folded arms" strikes. George Andrew McMahon, former radical journalist, was sentenced to a year in prison for flashing a pistol at King Edward VIII in London.

The French exploration ship Pourquoi Pas was smashed to pieces by a hurricane off Iceland, with forty sailors and scientists, including Capt. Jean Baptiste Charcot, noted explorer, losing their lives. Only one man escaped. More than 75 persons perished when an avalanche wiped out two villages on the shore of Lake Loen, Norway. Princess Juliana of Holland announced her engagement to Prince Bernhard von Lippe-Biesterfeld of Germany.

will we have to wait three weeks to three months to get word through to the Pacific coast telling who has been elected and that a war has been declared.

NEVER AGAIN can we sit anywhere in America and feel perfectly secure against the vengeance of some foreign power. Everything has changed. Messages are instantaneous throughout the world. No one is immune from the new dangers whether it be on land or sea or in the air.

Sounds terrible, doesn't it. But are you aware that the every day hazards of life take a much larger toll than any war? Against these every day hazards we come to your rescue and offer life and accident insurance as the most necessary and practical help in these emergencies.

Mishaps come just when they are ready.

Are you ready to meet one?

"Sweepstakes" Clubs Formed

All over the country, groups of enthusiasts tell us they are forming clubs to take part in Your Lucky Strike "Sweepstakes." One group of 43 members in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, poetizes as follows:

"We have picked with lots of patience Songs we did and didn't like, But now it's raining cigarettes HURRAH FOR LUCKY STRIKE!"

Have you had the fun others are getting out of this great national cigarette game? Have you won your delicious Lucky Strikes? Tune in "Your Hit Parade"—Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Listen, judge, and compare the tunes—then try Your Lucky Strike "Sweepstakes."

And if you're not already smoking Luckies, buy a pack today and try them, too. Maybe you've been missing something. You'll appreciate the advantages of Luckies—A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

SIRUPS AND SAUCES ADD TO APPEAL OF MANY PLAIN DISHES

By Rhondana A. Armstrong
(Home Economics Representative)

Many of the pudding sauces are sugar sirups flavored in some way—with maple, chocolate, wine, brandy, or fruit juices. Sometimes they are thickened with flour or with cornstarch, with egg, or with both egg and starch. The simplest lemon sauce is sugar sirup with lemon juice and butter. Hot chocolate sauce is a sirup flavored with melted unsweetened chocolate and vanilla, and enriched with butter.

Foamy sauces are made with eggs, butter and sugar, a very little liquid, and flavoring. One recipe calls for one-quarter cup of butter, one-half cup of granulated sugar, two tablespoons boiling water, two eggs, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one tablespoon lemon juice, a bit of salt. Combine the butter, sugar, salt, and boiling water, and add to the well-beaten egg yolks. Cook over hot water and stir constantly until thickened. Fold into this the well-beaten egg whites and the vanilla and lemon juice and serve at once.

Hard sauce, an uncooked sauce which is made of butter and powdered sugar, with flavoring as desired, calls for one part butter to three of sugar. Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, and continue beating. The longer the beating, the creamier the sauce. Chill before serving. For variety, substitute brown sugar, and flavor with the grated rind of an orange.

FASHION PARADE

By ORRY-KELLY
(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing
For International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD — Balance is the keynote of the day in fashions. The right hand knows exactly what the left hand is doing, because they are doing exactly the same thing.

Time was when most dresses fastened down one side with the buttons and buckles concentrated in that direction. Many dresses featured only a single wide lapel; drapery came from only one shoulder and all sashes tied on the side.

Now all dresses are button-wise straight down the back or front. If a suit or coat is double-breasted there is an equal regiment of buttons down either side. Revers down the front are as twinlike as Daisy and Violet Hilton; drapery comes cascading from the right as well as the left; sashes have given way to belts which buckle dead-center.

It's the streamline influence which puts mental scales on our eyes when we size up a dress to see that the balance is perfect. A fifty-fifty coat that we did for Anita Louise illustrates this point. It is of black worsted and buttons down the front; not a fraction of an inch to east or west. The buckle of her black kid belt rests over a button and twin pockets of Persian lamb are above the belt, equally spaced from the buttons. Two more twin pockets go on below the belt and a little collar of Persian lamb comes down in two equal points. Only in the jaunty tilt of her little Russian hat is there the least degree of slant.

Shoulder corseges make way for flowers centered at the front neckline. Plants go all the way 'round or settle themselves precisely in front or back, never being partial to only one side. If tones flare an inch to the right they flare uncompromisingly an inch to the left.

Our new treatment of lapels most definitely shows this new theme of balance. Used on dresses, suits and coats, the plan is to fasten the revers together where they fold back, thus closing the garment up the front into a high neckline, but still utilizing the effect of the lapels. We used this idea of fastened revers for a dressy velvet street coat for Glenda Farrell and again for Ann Sheridan in a wash dress she will wear in "Black Legion."

Even capes, noted for their off-on-atantent proclivities, now settle evenly on both shoulders. The kind that fit over only one sleeve have fled away and instead of fastening on the side a buckle under the cleft in the chin holds the cape together.

Deep slits are the order in formal frocks and many of these are balanced to the extent of a slit on each side. One we did for Kay Francis was slit in the center and draped back into a slight train, although we have occasionally gone in for a single side slit and hem drapery.

No Privileged Incomes

Money is to have as its basis an hour's work instead of a bit of metal. There will be no "privileged incomes" from "rent, interest and dividends."

The entire system is supposed to be controlled from the co-operative communities, without a bit of back-talk from the central government, which can not even be called a government because it will be so weak. But even in the communities there will be no government as it is known now. Each co-operative group will make simple "rules and regulations" for the common good, and its courts will be lay organizations where culprit and accuser appear before a "Board of Delinquents" without benefit of lawyers.

Because farmers like to feel as if they own the land they till, they are to be given use of a house as long as they live, a salary while they still can hoe and a pension afterwards.

"Co-operation is a radical movement," those who read Mr. Warbasse's book learn. "Those who desire that the prevalent economic and social conditions should continue should not enter the co-operative movement."

Only a Palliative Now

Indeed, one finds that it "surely is subversive enough for the violent revolutionary, orderly enough for the pacifist reformer."

"Those of us who have caught the vision of a 'Co-operative Economic Democracy have found the spark that keeps us fired with the zeal to bring about Kingdom Come on Earth during our lifetimes," says E. R. Bowen, secretary of the Warbasse league in another booklet used in Tugwell study courses.

Present political regulation of business, he tells his readers, "is only a palliative to relieve the pains of a dying economic order."

"With a clear understanding of the temporary nature of any such political regulation," he adds, "we must be aggressive in building the co-operative foundations of the new order so that one may replace the other without a collapse."

A Mighty Generous Offer To Weak, Sick, Nervous Folks

Money Back if This Great Tonic Fails to Increase Energy and Give You New Pep and Vigor in 10 Days' Time

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Here's vital news for thin, bloodless, scrawny, ailing, run-down folks! A new combination of iron has been perfected which actually increases your strength and endurance in ten days' time, and builds up a shattered nervous system as if by magic.

It's almost incredible the way sick, anemic folks—folks who used to be nothing but skin and bones and ailing all the time—begin to pick up when they start taking this great strength building form of iron with other powerful ingredients—Clements' Tonic. Sunken cheeks and other hollows fill out through proper assimilation of your food; sallowness gives way to rich, healthy color; nervousness disappears; you put on good solid flesh, and are fit as a fiddle in every way.

You bubble over with pep and vitality. Best of all you have the STRENGTH THAT ENDURES.

Make This Simple Test

Weigh yourself, and then take a good long walk. See how far you can go or how long you can work without becoming tired. Next take Clements' Tonic for two weeks—two tablets with each meal. Then weigh yourself again and see how much you have gained. You will be truly amazed, not only at the gain in weight, but at the new pep and vigor you will have acquired.

Clements' Tonic is dispensed in this city by United Cut Rate who cheerfully agrees to refund the purchase price if this great iron prescription does not increase your strength and endurance 100 per cent in 10 days' time.—(Adv.)

ings for Mrs. Green, the newspaper's research experts estimated.

In addition to food and clothing, the Greens spent $918.88 during the year on miscellaneous items. Their direct real estate taxes are not included in this sum. The tax portion of the $918.88 was $116.72, or 12.7 per cent. They had to work 13 days each to pay it.

Because the Greens own their home nearly 53 per cent of their tax bill was paid out in direct taxes and only slightly less than one-half in indirect levies on food, clothing and other necessities.

During the month of September a total of 158 marriage licenses were granted in Bucks county, compared to 243 a year ago when the three-day law was not in operation. Throughout the year, the new law has resulted in about a 30 per cent decrease in business. During the month of September, nearly 40 per cent of those who were granted licenses were married at civil ceremonies.

There were ten divorcees among the applicants in September, including four women and six men.

The average age of the male applicants granted licenses was 27, while the female applicants averaged 25 years.

Bristol had 11 applicants, Doylestown 10, Quakertown six, and Perkasie three.

Approximately 65 per cent of the applicants were non-residents of Bucks county. Trenton furnishing 43 and Philadelphia, 68.

N. J., is spending two weeks' vacation at the Armstrong home.

Miss Irma Dawson, Philadelphia, spent the week-end visiting relatives and friends in Bristol.

Harold Appleton, Newark, N. J., week-ended with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Appleton, Maple Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan and son Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Tully and Miss Rose Gallagher, Bayonne, N. J., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Quigley, Bath street. Miss Margaret McGee, Jersey City, N. J., spent a few days at the Quigley home.

VISIT IN OAK LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. DeLong and daughter Janice, Monroe street, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius DeLong, West Oak Lane.

MRS. CRABTREE GIVES RECIPE FOR SPAGHETTI

Dear Friends in Bristol:

Let's eat spaghetti! It's good (when made right); it's nutritious and a real supper party can be had for very little money. Spaghetti made with a meat sauce is a one-dish meal and so satisfying.

If you have pottery plates, a large platter, a wooden bowl; checked cotton table cloth and an old fruit bowl; now is the time to use them. The more informal, the more delightful will be this Italian dinner. Cover the table with the checked table cloth; use a center piece of a bowl of fruit. The fruit also serves as the dessert course. Plates should be ample in size; and coffee cups in the same style.

Here is the menu:
Spaghetti with Meat Sauce
Cole Slaw
Rye Bread
Fruit
Coffee

The spaghetti may be served in the individual plates or it may be served on a large platter and covered with the sauce. Under no conditions should the spaghetti and sauce be cooked together.

For a supper party of six, purchase two pounds of spaghetti. Bring a gallon of water in a preserving kettle to a boil. Add one tablespoon of salt. Dip the ends of the spaghetti in boiling water and as it softens, it will bend easily and may be coiled down under the water. Cook fifteen to twenty minutes or until tender but not soft. Drain in a colander and pour over one quart of hot water. Remove to a hot platter just at serving. It takes a large meat fork and large spoon to serve the spaghetti.

The meat sauce must be cooked slowly at least two hours. This may be made well ahead of time and reheated.

Parmesan Cheese, grated, is the choice of the Italians. One wonders though if given some mellow, grated American cheese, if they would not come over to the American side. Try snappy, grated American cheese with this supper. The cheese is placed in a bowl and passed for the guests to help themselves.

Italian Meat Sauce

Four strips of bacon, two medium sized onions, two stalks of celery, one green pepper, small can of mushrooms (optional), one pound ground beef, one large can tomatoes, one can concentrated soup, salt and pepper to taste, two tablespoons Worcester-shire Sauce.

Fry the bacon and remove the strips. Brown the onions; diced celery and chopped green pepper in the bacon fat and when yellow, sprinkle in the ground beef; sear well, then add a can of tomatoes and Worcestershire sauce. Simmer slowly for an hour. Add the tomato soup and cook for another hour. If this sauce is cooked slowly, no other liquid is necessary and the sauce will be sufficiently thick.

Cole Slaw

Select a small, firm head of cabbage. Core and shred quite fine. Soak in cold water until crisp and dry in a cloth. Just before serving, mix with any dressing desired; French, boiled dressing or a mayonnaise. Garnish with ripe olives.

LANGHORNE TO PLAY HIGH SCHOOL XI HERE

By Louis Tomlinson

Billy Dougherty's fighting Bunnies will meet Langhorne in their annual fray tomorrow at 3.15 on the local field. A close hard-fought game is anticipated not only in view of former games in which Bristol won, 6-0, and 7-0, respectively in the last two years; but also because Langhorne will be fighting with fire in their eyes in order to break their losing streak and get into the win column.

The "Redskins" lost their opening game to Burlington, 51-0, and lost last week to Harkon, 6-0, on a very unfortunate break on their part. It seems that both clubs were practically the same color jerseys, and at one time during the contest a Langhorne man seeing a man in a red jersey running for a touchdown came from nowhere to stop the madly flying youth in his progress to touchdown-land. After feeling himself proud of preventing this score, you can well imagine the surprise look on the tackler's face when he finds out who he tackled, for lo, and behold! It was his own teammate on the way to tie the score with a chance to win the game. Also imagine Coach Beck's embarrassment. We can bet the tackler's ears were burning when he returned to the bench. But it was very unfortunate for Langhorne, a tough break resulting from both teams wearing the same color jerseys.

This break has forced Coach Beck, who is starting his ninth season as coach at Langhorne, to put on the pressure during practice this week in order to win this fray. The local mentor, on the other hand, has stressed the importance of winning the battle in order to retain their Bucks County honors, which they won last year.

Incidentally, speaking of championships, the coaches of Lower Bucks decided to disband the Lower Bucks Conference this year due to an unfair scoring method. Bristol must, therefore, win all their Bucks County games by decisive scores in order that they might be considered mythical champs of the county.

Langhorne, one of Bristol's oldest opponents, will be headed by Captain Walt Carter, All-Bucks County tackle, and the veteran Jake Stradling, left end, on the line. The big guns in the "Redskins" offensive attack will be led by Klein and McCahan, ace backs.

The "Redskins," therefore, will be out to scalp the local warriors to avenge the past two defeats when the Bunnies copped the honors in winning by a single touchdown.

The only change in the Cardinals line-up this week is the regaining of a starting position at tackle by Carm Mignoni, replacing Carm Gullato at that post. The other is the winning of a starting berth at guard by Roy Hatcher.

The probable line-ups are:

Bristol	Langhorne
Carnvale	Stradling
C. Mignoni (Capt.)	Carr
F. Mignoni	left guard
Hatcher	right guard
VanZant	(Capt.) Garter
White	right tackle
Bauroth	right end
Phillips	quarterback
H. Johnson	left halfback
Orazi	right halfback
	McCahan
	fullback

Referee: Fowler, Mississippi State.
 Umpire: Erb, Ursinus.
 Head linesman: Bloomsburg.

BENNY ARIZZI PROVES TARTAR IN ARENA FIGHT

CROYDON, Oct. 8.—Billy Crawford, 126-pound Daggett A. C. favorite, met a tartar in the person of Benny Arizzi, of South Philadelphia, in the wind-up bout at the weekly amateur boxing show staged at the Arena, here, last night, and just won the decision in a close contest.

Arizzi, a stocky-built youngster who went on at the last minute as a substitute for Johnny Litto, who was scheduled to fight Crawford in a return bout, but who was unable to appear because of a tournament that he is appearing in at the Quaker City, gave Crawford all the fight he cared for during three fast rounds.

Benny, a southpaw with a hook that landed continually on Billy's tummy, kept Crawford off balance through most of the fight and tied the Daggett boy up when the pace got tough. Crawford, a heavy puncher, was unable to do much damage with his right fist until the closing round when Arizzi, tired by his early efforts, suffered a number of hefty punches to the jaw which enabled Crawford to gain a very close decision.

In the semi-windup, Joseph Lamb, a former Middle Atlantic junior champion, from the Germantown Boys Club, just managed to defeat Albert Panceili, of the Neighborhood Club in a furious three rounds in the 147-pound class.

Panceili, as game a youngster as they come, waded into the former champ right from the opening bell and stung Lamb with a right uppercut to the body. Lamb, on the other hand, a two-fisted gloveman with plenty of experience, fought his way out of many a tight spot with as fine an exhibition of fighting as has been seen here in many a day. The crowd gave these two lads a great ovation when the final bell rang.

Tommy Brown, a left-handed socker from the Shackamaxon Club, defeated Charles Hagerty, of Kensington, in three hard rounds. Hagerty, who suffered a badly cut ear in the first round, battled away until the end of the bout despite this handicap.

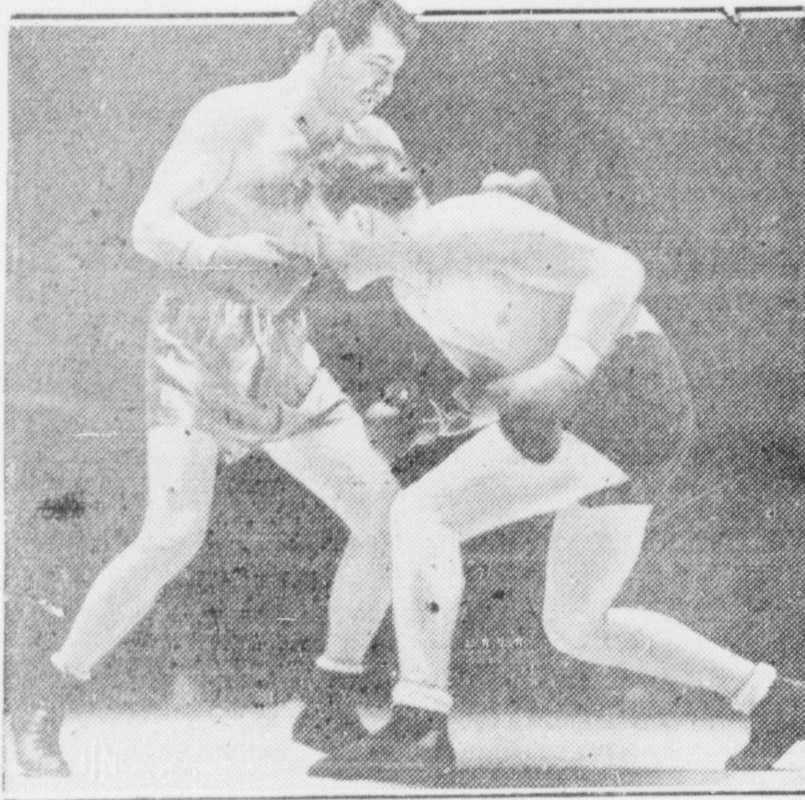

William Boudah, of the Holland Club, made short work of Wilbert Williams, of the East Side Club, in the opening round of the seventh contest. Boudah found the range to Williams' pantry and landed a couple of hard blows that put the colored boy down for the full count.

Boudah was the lad who battled Billy Blade in the sensational bout last week and had trained hard for the return match which was scheduled to take place last night. Fortunately for Blade, who was injured while training, this bout was changed to the unlucky Williams.

James Lefferts, Daggett A. C. lost on a decision to Herman Matteo, Seymour, in three rounds of a fairly even bout in the 126-pound class, while John Welcz, of Germantown, took a severe beating from Oscar Mackey, of South Philadelphia, for three rounds and then was knocked out just before the final bell.

Charles Lanz, Holland Club, lost the most unpopular decision to James Frazier, of Philadelphia, ever rendered by boxing officials here. Frazier, purely a counter fighter, made no effort to lead throughout the contest, being content to wait and block Lang, who made the fight with his aggressive style. When the result of the bout was announced bedlam let loose with the judges and the referee taking plenty of panning.

Baby-Face Polishes Tony Off

Arthur Hosefrass, Germantown, was too much for John Chynoweth, of Daggett, in the 147-pound class. Hosefrass floored the Daggett lad in the second and third rounds, with heavy rights, to easily cope the decision. Carmen Voljo, Seymour, defeated Nelson Hyde, Germantown, in three fast rounds, while Angelo Ambrosino got the winning verdict over Mike Drodato, Seymour, in the opening bout of the evening.

BENSALEM AND YARDLEY TO CLASH AT CORNWELLS

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Oct. 8.—Coach George Reimers Bensalem High Owls will play their second home game of the season on Bensalem field tomorrow, when they will clash with Mike Derrick's Yardley eleven.

Defeated and outplayed by a strong Upper Moreland High team last Saturday, the township boys will have to play improved ball to beat the up-river team. In the Upper Moreland game, the Bensalem line was continually outcharged and outsmarted by the opposing forwards, and as a result the Upper Moreland backs crashed through the Owl line at will. On the other hand, Bensalem's vaunted forward passing attack never had a chance to get started against a faster charging line.

This week's practice sessions have been devoted to correcting these faults. The Owl squad is all in good shape physically, with the exception of Cruiser Crossley, star tackle and fastest man on the team, who is lost for the season due to a shoulder injury.

Next Monday, the Bensalem "Cubs" will journey to Newtown to meet the George School "Cubs," and on Saturday, October 17th, the Pemberton, N. J., eleven will appear on Bensalem field.

Kick-off for the Yardley game is at 3.30 p. m., sharp.

Narrow Escape From Death Told By Officer

a hill in the midst of the town and reached by such winding streets that we had to ask the way no less than a dozen times.

By the greatest of good luck I found in General Franco's ante-room a Spanish diplomat whom I had met at Franco's headquarters in Seville. I won't record his name because he doesn't want his family to suffer from the relation of the tale of his hair-raising escape from death, just a few weeks ago.

"Of course," he said cordially, "General Franco will receive you." While we waited for the General, the diplomat, who now functions as a sort of foreign minister for Franco, told us his story.

He had been bound for Spain from South America on a Spanish steamer when the revolution broke out. The moment the crew heard of it they mutinied, killed the officers, and changed course for Barcelona. The diplomat had time and discretion enough immediately to destroy every paper he had which would compromise him with the Reds, as he had been a very prominent politician on the White. Nevertheless he was denounced to the crew by a woman on board who had pretended sympathy with the Whites but was acting as an informant for the Reds.

He and six other gentlemen were taken off the boat at Barcelona and hauled before a Red tribunal consisting of five men with rifles. This was about dusk. The riflemen judges then took all night long to try, condemn and execute the six others. Each one was given an hour or two to defend himself. Several times the judges were all but one in favor of letting the victim go, but each time one little undersized wrinkled man with a savage voice harshly intervened and demanded "Let 'em have it."

So all six were shot, each in turn before the eyes of the survivors, until it came the turn of the diplomat last. At this moment the little man with the savage voice was called on a telephone and had to go away. One of the other judge-executioners then spoke up "Fellows, we've already killed six. Don't you think that's enough. Let's let this one go."

"Okay!" agreed the others wearily. "And then," exclaimed the diplomat, slapping his neatly trousered knee with delight, "do you know what they did? One of those same fellows who were just about to shoot me carried my baggage off the boat."

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

This is us at Burkes' Store just across the State line. That's me with the basket shaking hands with Burke. It's my brother-in-law Tom carrying his coat and my brother William holding the bag. And our dog Jessie looking up and whining at me. Harry E. Wilken

Our Family's Whiskey sells like everything—even outside Pennsylvania!

You see—us being a family of distillers since way back in the early days—this Family's Whiskey of ours is just about our whole life. And all we're thinking about or caring about is keeping every batch we put out just so. There's nothing makes us Wilkens quite so happy as hearing folks say how they never really did know how mild and tasty a whiskey could be until they came to taste the Wilken Family Whiskey.
